

Reflection 1: What we have discussed about learning in science and gender balance in the classroom thus far...

Working in small groups (4-6) reflect on what we have discussed, found and learned in the previous 2 days about issues related to gender balance. We are interested in details: ideas or points that got you excited, made you wonder or puzzled you. Discuss this with you group members. Please make notes for both personal and group ideas. If needed, please use extra space at the back of the page. Groups need to have representatives from at least two different countries; all representatives from one country should not be in the same group.
